

Motion Picture Notes

Polly Van is to act in a serial for the Mammoth Film Company, of which Harry Webster is Director. Vincent Durante has been engaged by Edwin Tannenbaum to be the star in a one-reel feature called "A Mod-new Movie Star. The name is Lloyd Longfellow.

Milton Mills, acting in a Western, went riding on an undertaker's horse the other day and visited all the cemeteries up that way.

Eleanor Woodruff of the International has a hump back, otherwise known as a hunchback. It was sent her from Florida. Her name is Huanken, and it does the one-stop very nicely.

Elmerine Oakland of the Thanhouser Players is to take up the dancing.

Twenty hours that the general office of the Mutual are to be moved to Chicago.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Jr. visited the Keystone plant in California recently. Mark Bennett constituted himself a reception committee of one and showed her about the studios.

Julius Stern was heard saying that Billie Ritchie and Alice Howell, in making a picture out West, had gone over a cliff 800 feet high in an automobile. Julius was right. They went over on a bridge.

Dill, of Keok and Dill, had to climb a tree for a scene in a comedy. In doing so he started up a lot of bees and they all got busy and chased him. As Kuhl put it, Dill was in a pickle.

A feature of the music programme at the Strand next week will be an orchestra composed by William Lovitz, of pianist of the Strand Concert Orchestra.

Carl Pierce, representing the Bowditch Film Company, presented M. J. Rothkopf of the Biograph with a diamond stickpin as a reward for arranging the presentation of a feature film at the Langone Theatre some time ago.

Owing to a throat affection, James Harrod has retired from the musical programme of the Rialto. James Harrod is now singing tenor soloes at that theatre.

Montague Love was sandbagged on the Bowery the other day for a scene in a Brady film. A hundred people gathered around him and were used as background. When it was all over they suddenly became imbued with the idea that they should be paid and a near riot followed the refusal of the director to pay out $2 bills.

MACMILLAN EXPLORER HERE.

Allen, Wireless Operator, Arrives From Copenhagen.

Jerome Lee Allen, wireless operator of the Donald B. MacMillan expedition which went in search of "Crocker Land," arrived here yesterday from Copenhagen on the steamship Helsingør.

Mr. Allen said that the steamship Denmark, which was sent to get the remaining members of the expedition, would arrive at St. John's, N. F., next month.

Other passengers were Benjamin Chase, United States Consul at Flume, and Captain Robert Thomas, Costa Rica. Countess Scherzer, daughter of Henry D. White, former Ambassador to France, and Count Eric von Möller, Minister太子 of the Danish Legation in Washington.
